

1955 Sweetheart Queen To be Chosen Next Week

The University of Bridgeport will hold its annual "Sweetheart Dance" at the Ritz Ballroom, Friday, Feb. 25 from 9 P. M. to 1 A. M.

The five finalists, picked at a Tea in Alumni Hall, Tuesday, are: Cynthia Ray, Narlene Gleicher, Rosemarie Mehm, Ann Hoffman and Yolanda Delmore.

The great attraction for the evening will be the selection of "The Sweetheart Queen". There have been many names submitted as candidates from which the judges chose five finalists last Tuesday.

The candidates were Adele Beriman, Carolyn Brennan, Nancy Hall and Cynthia Mirsky. Also were Joan Flaimio, Jocelyne Poisan, Ann Hoffman and Rosemary Mehm. Lynne Schipps, Paula Kramer, Pat Sheller, Narlene Gleicher, Theresa Perrone, Enid Claussen, Margaret Gale and Bette Hoffman are also hopeful of becoming Queen.

Norma Buck, Barbara Suval, Barbara Fechtner, D'anne Bulkin, Marklyn Chick, Ruth Nodland and Yolanda Delmore are also vying for honors.

Remember the final voting for the five finalists will take place in Alumni Hall next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Be sure to vote for your Queen. We hope to see you at the dance.

APO Dance To Raise $ $ For Movies

A dance, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, will be held following the UB-Fairfield basketball game to raise funds for the production of a film about the University of Bridgeport.

The film will be produced by APO, under the direction of its president, Dick Ellis. Ellis is a photography fan and will take most of the "footage" himself.

The film will include scenes of campus life including athletic events, dances, school activities, The SCRIBE, The Wistarian, Alumni Hall, the new library under construction, Campus Thunder, Spring Play, etc.

Some of the scenes will be from Ellis' own collection of shots he has taken in the past.

The length of the film will depend on how much money can be raised at the dance, to be held in Alumni Hall. Admission will be 50c. per person.

It is expected that the film will be used by the Admissions Office when representatives of the University hold conferences at high schools around the area.

Two Retailing Majors To N.Y.U. Conference

Marketing students Theresa E. Sabol and Constance Marino, along with faculty representative Prof. Eloise Mallone, chairman of the college's Fashion Merchandise Department, will attend the seventh annual conference on Careers in Retailing at New York University's School of Retailing tomorrow.

More than 160 students and advisors from some 55 colleges and universities in the East are expected to participate in the all-day meeting.

The program will include lectures by prominent retailing executives, visits to New York fashion showrooms for spring style previews, and a luncheon sponsored by the NYU Merchant's Advisory Council, a group representing more than 30 department stores.

The day's activities close with a behind-the-scenes tour of Bloomingdale Brothers' department store in Manhattan.

Theme of the conference is "Get Ready for Retailing". The annual meeting is designed to give students a knowledge of the opportunities offered by the field and of how to prepare for them.

HAROLD E. STASSEN

Stassen's Talk Off Till March; Ike Needs Him

The fourth annual Jacoby Lecture, originally scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 24, has been cancelled because of an emergency meeting that requires the presence of Harold Stassen, Director of the Foreign Operations Administration.

Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower ordered Stassen to attend the Easter Asiatic Conference, at Bangkok, to be held Feb. 24, the same day as the Jacoby Lecture.

Tentative plans are being made to hold the Lecture, with Stassen as the guest speaker in the latter part of March, according to a statement from President James H. Halsey.

Frosh Advisee Meeting Scheduled For Feb. 22

The first in a series of three Freshman advisee meetings was held last Tuesday, with the other two being scheduled for Feb. 22 and March 1. It is a standard University requirement that all freshmen attend these meetings.

These gatherings are not conducted according to formal classroom manners, but rather the procedure is to have friendly discussion groups where opportunity is given to discuss various problems related to adjustment to campus life. Emphasis will be placed on effective study methods.

WRUB To Go On Air To Test Equipment

WRUB, the University of Bridgeport's own radio station will take to the air-waves to test its signal during the beginning of next week, according to a station spokesman.

Equipment will be installed at the end of this week and the tests will be held to see what flaws there are in the transmitting equipment.

Mademoiselle Fiction Contest Offers $500

An opportunity to win $500 and the chance to write commercially, are the prizes that await Bridgeport co-eds who enter "Mademoiselle's" 10th College Fiction Contest.

The contest is held annually to induce young women, currently enrolled in college, to write fictional stories for national magazines. The two winners of the fiction contest will receive $500 each and publication of their stories in Mademoiselle.

Runners-up will receive honorable mention and Mademoiselle will reserve the rights to purchase their work at professional rates for publication purposes.

Stories should run approximately from 2,500 to 5,000 words, type-written on regulation size typing paper, double spaced, and printed on one side of the paper.

All entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 1. Accompanying the manuscripts should be the contestants name, age, home and school address, and school year. An 8½" by 11" manila envelope, self-addressed and stamped should be included with all entries.

Stories that have appeared in undergraduate publications are acceptable, provided that they have not been published elsewhere.

G.I. Bill Dead; Don't Expect It If You Join Up!

Registrar Clarence E. Damon and Dean of Men D. R. Mallett of Purdue University have issued a warning to all university men who contemplate leaving school to join the Armed Forces in order to gain educational benefits under the G. I. Bill.

Due to misinterpretation of this bill, students have been joining the Armed Forces in large numbers recently, only to find out after their induction that they will receive very little educational aid.

Pres. Eisenhower issued on Jan. 1, a proclamation ending the period of eligibility for certain veterans benefits of the Korean conflict. The proclamation sets Jan. 31, 1955 as the last day of the Korean conflict period during which those in service may earn entitlement to education or training under P. L. 550. Those entering service after Jan. 31, will not (continued on page 4)

Providing there are no flaws, or the flaws are minor and can be remedied quickly, the station will go on the air with a skeleton schedule in about two weeks. At this time, programs will be scheduled Monday through Friday nights, from 6 to 11 P. M.

Auditions for station personnel will be held at the end of this week and the beginning of next week. Exact times and places will be posted.

When the station goes on the air, according to station manager Jim Muller, all programs will be tape recorded in advance, except one-man disc jockey programs, news programs, etc. The reason that Muller has made this move is a lack of space in the room assigned to the station. "We can't fit more than the one engineer-announcer in the place", he explained.

The Jacoby Lecture series speech by Harold Stassen at the Klein next week will be tape recorded and tentative plans call for the recording of the UB-Fairfield game, Feb. 26, for re-play at a later date.

Muller, who took over as station manager after elections by the organizational committee, got his radio experience at WXBC, Bard College, N. Y., and at WKIP, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The shuffling of the staff and replacement of Wes Hobby by Muller was due to the fact that Muller is a senior and Hobby has at least one more year at UB.

Other staff positions filled are:

Howie Shapiro, Business Manager; Wes Hobby, Program Director; Randy Linthorst, News Director; Ann Merrill, Traffic Manager; Jack Deiter, Special Events Director; Bobbi Kaplan, Record Librarian; and Marion Sussman, Executive Secretary.

Broder New Scribe Head

The SCRIBE completes with this issue its second week under the editorship of industrial journalism major Howard Broder. Broder, a sophomore, who has been rising rapidly on campus, was appointed to the top spot in Feb. by The SCRIBE Advisory Board, succeeding able editor Mickey Vail.

Broder's experience with this paper began two years ago when he joined the reporting staff. Before taking on his new duties, he served as news editor for the paper, simultaneously acting as Advertising Manager for the Wistarian.

An active brother of Pi Omega Chi, Howie is also secretary of Pi Delta Epsilon, a national honorary journalism fraternity, and has appeared in Campus Thunder (continued on page 6)

A Gripe On Gripes

With the coming of a new academic year, this last September brought with it a score of other innovations. The most prominent of these were the habitual talks in the back grounds of various situations, or to put it in well-known terms, GRIPING. But let's get something understood now.

There is nothing wrong with a gripe, in fact that's how many a problem is solved or at least appeased. But continual griping without actions, is at the most, harmful to say nothing of its uselessness.

The subject of losing athletic teams has long been a favorite complaint. Yet the irony of the matter is that the players or their coaches, who have the most reason to complain, have been the silent ones. It is those persons who have never participated in a sport, or for that matter even tried out for a berth on a team, that continue to make the loudest noises.

These despondent yells of "Let's do something" or "If I were out there" are not limited to varsity sports. No, indeed, they are ever present in numerous activities on campus. Some people on campus excel in the art of gabbing continuously. But when the occasion arises for them to voice their opinion officially, such as in a meeting or tryout, these same persons are not heard from, that is, if they are even present.

There is no panacea for the occurrences, but a suggestion is in order. If some athletic team isn't being run as you think it should, join that particular team. Because if you're such an authority on the subject in question, it goes without saying that you will be a valuable asset. If some organization doesn't meet with your approval, become an integral part of it.

In the event that the above suggestion is not taken, there is an alternate one. "KEEP STILL!"

Non-Compos Mendes

By Bob Mendes

Our high-flying basketball team won two big games during the past week and in so doing, they snapped the longest losing streak in the history of UB basketball, we're told by the sports pages. . . That's nice. We enjoy going to school that can be noted for its athletic prowess. In beating CCNY and Fairleigh Dickinson, UB finally molded itself into a basketball team worthy of being called such. Deep Purple Orchids to a highly spirited and highly aggressive basketball team. . . Garbage to the fans who supposedly back it!

We felt nothing but mortification at the thought of being included within the ranks of fans at the Fairleigh Dickinson game. It seems that there was a player on the Fairleigh Dickinson team who didn't possess the particular outward appearance that a group of UB fans wished him to possess. Shame on him. . . How dare he come to our school not looking the way he's supposed to look. By way of penalizing No. 22 these fans (no names please. . . some of our oldest and close friends were in the group) rode him so unmercifully, that we had nothing but praise for No. 22 for having enough restraint to keep from making an obscene gesture to that portion of the stands in which sat this group.

We found ourselves, after a while, wishing that UB would emerge victorious, but that No. 22 would go on a scoring spree and hit for about 25 or 30 points that night.

No. 22 wasn't the only subject for fun making that night. It seems that a Fairleigh Dickinson player had a broken nose or some similar face defect. At any rate it was necessary that he wear a guard on his head that gave him the appearance of a Martian. He was also heavily ridden by the stands.

These feats of unsportsmanlike conduct weren't the full extent of the talents of our friends. In the closing few minutes of play, the game had reached a high level of excitement, both from player and spectator viewpoint. It was during this period of time that the foul shots for both clubs were all important.

We can see no reason why one team should be subjected to distracting noises while on the foul line and not the other. We wish that there was some way that UB could apologize to the Fairleigh Dickinson team for the conduct of its fans while foul shots were being taken.

We realize that these fans were only trying to spark the Purple Knights to a well deserved victory, but there must be some other way that they could do it. We noticed that the majority of these students were those that confined their athletic abilities to screaming from the stands, so perhaps there is something in the saying, "Them that can't. . . talk about it! Them that can. . . does!"

Hobby's Lobby

By Wes Hobby

I received a letter this week from Mindy Carson describing a new type of dance which is beginning to take hold around the nation. It's called the FISH. While we grant that this is rather an unusual title for a song, what isn't nowadays.

We have "The Creep", "The Bunny Hop", (not to mention such oldies as The Big Apple, Lambeth Walk, Turkey Trot and Varsity Drag). . . why not the FISH?

"The closest anyone has come to telling how to do the FISH is to describe it as a sort of slow rhythm dance, in which the participants (what's this mean?) are locked in a close bunny hug embrace, to which their bodies sway, while their feet tap out a three beat rhythm", says Mindy.

"The lyrics of the FISH pretty well describe how to dance it:

Rock a little left foot - one, two, three

Roll a little right foot - bend your knee

Use an ocean motion, calm and cool

Rock and roll your baby, that's the rule"

Mindy gives this added hint: "When you dance the FISH, you got to act like one. You must be sure to keep your head stationary, while your body goes about its business."

Have fun with the FISH, if you wish. Yours truly is still trying to learn the Mambo. . . ugh!

Also in last week's mail was a card from Jo Anne Tolley, Jubilee and MGM recording star, who guested in the Lobby a few weeks ago. It said:

"BEFORE YOU LOUSE SOMETHING UP. . . THINK!"

To the many kind folks who will point out our spelling error, THANKS!

Up and coming on the platter parade are new discs by Ray Anthony and Ralph Flanagan. These two may not, in fact probably won't, hit the top of the hit parade, but for those of you who are "cool ones", pick up Anthony's "Heat Wave" and "Juke Box Special", and Ralph Flanagan's "Go Moses Go", a jump version of an old spiritual.

Slated for top honors is Eddie Fisher's newest waxing: "A Man Chases A Girl Until She Catches Him". It's only been around a week or so and already the air version of the Lobby is getting many more than the ordinary amount of requests for it.

In the chuckle department, don't miss Homer and Jethro's RCA release of the "Nuttty Lady of Shady Lane" backed by "Mr. Sandman", and Jerry Colona's major interpretation of "Let Me Go Lover".

Newest record company in the nation is the "Thunderbird" outfit. They are, I have been told, a subsidiary of RCA Victor.

Well, I don't know about you, but I have homework to do, so until next Thursday same page, same time, this is Wes Hobby saying . . . so long, now.

University Provides Nurse, Doctor To Treat Students

By Sid Lee

Ooops! C-a-h! Owooch! Another test tube goes the way of all glass, and fingers may be cut in gathering the pieces.

Where to go for the treatment of cuts and burns as well as minor illnesses?

The University maintains a health clinic in Room 202 of Bishop Hall. Mrs. Doris Hoffman, University nurse, is on duty Mondays thru Fridays from 9 to 11 A. M., and from 2 to 5 P. M. Dr. Eli B. Ives, University physician, is on duty in the clinic from 4 to 5 P. M., each day for consultations and for making referrals of serious conditions to specialists.

From 25 to 35 students visit the health clinic each day; the common cold is the ailment that sends most of these students in search of medical help. UBites should also visit the clinic for counselling, regarding diet, school work loads, and participation in physical activities.

It is a good idea to make the health clinic aware of conditions that may affect attendance. Absences from classes will thus be more readily explained. Of course, all information given by students to the clinic is held in confidence and is released only for his benefit and with his permission.

The Health Service is conducted on a purely non-profit basis and no charge is made to students for treatment or medicines other than penicillin.

The basic work of the Health Service is keeping students in good health, and Mrs. Hoffman urges all students to come to the clinic regularly for guidance in maintaining health.

Debate Team Faces Rough Opponents

Novice and varsity debating teams will be created to oppose Wesleyan, Williams, Connecticut and New Haven State Teachers. William Banks, debating society advisor, will designate the status of each debator by means of a personal evaluation.

The Debating Society had its first match of the current series last Tuesday, against Fairfield University. At the time The SCRIBE went to press, we had no information as to the winner of the contest, which included Bob D'Andrea, Joe Schlacter, Ed Ramas and Ted Sternklar as participants.

Present officers of the society are: Henry Southwick, president; Ed Ramos, debating chairman; Dick Fahy, publicity manager; and Bob Smith, recording secretary.

Since its formation in 1949, the debating society has had matches with West Point, Wesleyan, U. of Connecticut, New York University and Rutgers.

Students interested in inter-collegiate debating are invited to join the organization. Pins and membership cards will be issued to all members.

Transfer Students Increase Enrollment

The fact that the University of Bridgeport is still suffering from growing pains will not come as a surprise to any student or member of the faculty. After the Second World War, the influx of veterans taking advantage of the G. I. Bill was immense. The same occurrence was witnessed after the Korean conflict.

But these large increases in enrollment were only temporary affairs, owing their birth to prominent national crisis. Yet in the past two years the enrollment has been swelled by students fresh out of high school, and lately by transfer students.

Perhaps this steadily increasing enrollment can be attributed to the manner in which the University has and is being built up. At the present time, few students realize what educational facilities are offered by their own institution.

Now 3,000

At the present date the number of students, comprised of day and evening students, has reached the 3,000 mark and where the top limit is to be set, remains unknown. At this past spring registration period, students were admitted from some 34 other institutions of learning.

A few of these colleges include: R. P. I., Clarkson, N. Y. U., UConn., Cornell, Boston University, Trinity College, Hofstra College, Yale, and U. C. L. A. One of the contributing factors to the increased enrollment is the low ratio of students to instructors. For every 17 students there is one instructor, this ratio including part-time faculty members as well as the evening division.

UB is composed of five colleges: the Junior College of Connecticut with the Fones School of Dental Hygiene and the Weylster Secretarial School as divisions, the College of Arts and Science with a Division of Engineering, the College of Business Administration, the College of Nursing and the College of Education with the Arnold College of Hygiene and Physical Education as a division.

Well Recognized

Accredited by such organizations as the Connecticut State Department of Education, the American Association of Colleges, the Association of Urban Universities, and the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary, the University offers instruction in over 500 individual courses, from accounting to sociology.

The numerous academic, administrative, and dormitory buildings that comprise the 28-acre campus, serve as an inducement to learning. Perhaps this in part an explanation of the ever increasing enrollment.

Psych. Dept.: What's New What's Old

By Bill Bartlett

Dr. Kenneth A. Chandler, Chairman of the Department of Psychology at the University of Bridgeport, states in his paper entitled "Introductory Psychology: Its Nature and Purpose", that, "within the past two decades, colleges and universities across the nation have become more and more concerned with the particular needs of their incoming students, especially the Freshman".

Three Purposes of Psychology

The undergraduate has three purposes for taking psychology according to Dr. Chandler. The first is to provide a fund of information to assist an individual to function in work, life, home and school. Part of a basic background which is found to be useful in areas such as personnel work, guidance, and community service organizations is the second purpose for the study of psychology. The third purpose is to give the student the fundamental training for work in psychology which requires at least an M. A. and preferably, a Ph. D.

What Psychology is offered at UB

General psychology is offered for the student who does not major in psychology but needs a general knowledge of the subject for his future field of endeavor. The subject matter of the freshman and various advanced courses is useful in all professional and industrial fields such as law, medicine, personnel work and efficiency.

The College of Arts and Sciences offers a B. A. degree for the student planning a career in professional psychology. There is also a major field in educational psychology for students who are planning a career in education whether it is teaching or administrative work. Those working for their M. A. in education will find many courses in psychology to choose from.

The Psychological Society

"The purpose of the Society", according to the Constitution, is "to stimulate and improve research, instruction and discussion, and to encourage cooperative activities in the University and the community, in the scientific study of psychology. To accomplish this, the society has planned several field trips, included in those planned for this semester is a visit to Fairfield State Hospital in Newtown, Conn., on March 4, one to Marengo Institute in New York City to observe how psychodrama therapy works. The third planned trip is to Southbury Training School for retarded children in Southbury, Conn.

They are also planning to co-sponsor a convocation with the psychology department on April 4, the topic to be announced in the near future.

For those interested, membership is open to all full time students in good standing at the University of Bridgeport.

Opportunities in Psychology

Some of the fields of employment in psychology are college teaching, clinical psychology, psychiatric social workers, psychometrics (tests and measurements), counselling and guidance, personnel psychology, child and educational psychology, social psychology, statistics, and test development. The average

Meet New Cartoonist Veteran Evan Squier

By Morris Maline

The above is the first of a series to be introduced by Evan D. Squier, new staff cartoonist for The SCRIBE. He hopes to submit a new cartoon, depicting college life, each week.

Evan is a 21 year-old ex-Marine Corporal, now residing at 710 King St., Stratford. He is single and blond, with blue eyes.

Before joining the Marine Corps, Evan attended Stratford High School, where he displayed an ability to compose poetry. One of his poems, "Two Loves", won the High School Poetry contest, which gained national recognition for him.

After joining the Marines, he was assigned to a troop transport newspaper where he amused 800 readers with his controversial cartoons. Many of his drawings were distributed to friends in the service. Other cartoons are presently displayed in various installations throughout Europe.

While in Europe, Evan visited such fascinating places as the "Snake-Pit" in Naples, which is a nightclub operated by Lucky Luciano. In France, he spent most of his free time in "dingy, smoky cafes" where he saw many examples of modern art.

Of all the countries he toured, Evan is most anxious to return to Scotland. Perhaps, this is because he is three parts Scotch and one part Dutch and Indian.

The first person who really inspired him in a professional capacity was Bob Clay, a Greenwich Village artist, who formerly worked for Warner Brothers in Hollywood, Calif.

One of Evan's pet likes is progressive jazz. For relaxation he Dave Brubeck.

Upon completing his journalism studies, Evan would like to combine his art and poetry talents to introduce a new type magazine.

After reading this description of Evan D. Squier, would you believe that in the daytime he sells stocks and bonds for Hink's Brothers and Co? Well, he does! enjoys closing his eyes and resting to the music of Stan Kenton, Chet Baker, Gerry Mulligan and

Registration Brings 150 New Students To Campus

Spring registration last week brought 150 new students to UB to replace the almost 200 that left at the end of the Fall semester.

Of the 150 new students, only 15 are females. In all, 1,200 students registered for the Day Division and an equal number signed up for night courses.

According to Dr. Donald W. Kern, Director of Admissions, registration next Fall is expected to be higher than it was last year, but not as high as in 1949—the highest in the University's history.

with Lou Csigay

With the IFC weekend over, we would like to extend the A to Z "well done" award to the dance committee. . . went over beyond estimated expectations. But what happened to the cocktail party? Oh well! It's just that old bug, that great UB spirit.

We think that the new Greek Goddess upholds all the IFC Queen traditions. But then, Theta Epsilon's Cindy Ray is no stranger to the winner's circle. Wasn't she Freshman Queen a few years back?

As in the past the fraternities are showing more than just the social aspects of their activities. Opening their hearts for the Heart Fund, the IFC members and the various members will be canvassing the South End area this Sunday between 3 and 5 P. M. When you hear that knock, open your heart.

Sigma Omicron Sigma's first pledge party will take place Saturday at Lenny's. The new SOS Radiant Queen is blonde Evelyn Kovacs. Evy, a Theta Epsilon lassie, was chosen Friday after the dance. A certain member of the Fairleigh-Dickinson basketball team will long remember the spirited chiding he got from SOS.

It was a little too much though, men.

The Barnum Hotel will be the scene of Sigma Lambda Chi's before and after the Sweetheart Dance cocktail blast. Elected recently as pledge masters for the up-coming pledge season are Gigi Shapiro and Fred Fiorello. With graduation worries behind him, Hymie Katz has got a bigger worry. . . a greeting from Uncle Sam.

Pi Omega Chi will soon run into a shortage of eligible bachelors. Look at this line up for June-July mergers: Merle Bruskin, Walt Lombardo, Sam Marks, and Bernie Frank. . . must be the Valentine bug. Ted Brooks' baby will arrive in time for the festivities.

The new Beta Gamma banner has been completed thanks to the combined effort of Arline Crouthers, Dodie Bowden and alumnus Gloria Karafa. The three BG gals, who went to Lancaster, Pa., recently came back raving about red beet pickled eggs. . . huh? . . .

The big game played at the Theta Sigma fete at Bill Wright's the other yawning is catching on with the dorms. . . especially Wistarja. The name of all things, is Goose-the-Moose. It might even replace the mambo, but never the other indoor sports.

Alpha Delta Omega's annual Humanitarian award will be presented to Harold Stassen, who will give this year's Jacoby Lecture at the Klein. Mark Shinehart was chosen to head the ADO sports committee. . . Mark is one of the leading scorers in the intermural basketball league and he is captain of ADO's undefeated squad.

Partying at the Turf Club before and after the Sweetheart Dance will be the men of Delta Epsilon Beta. Randy Linthurst, Ed Cebry and Ed Brown are this year's pledge masters. . . DEB will start pledging in two weeks.

We are posing a question which we think will present a ticklish bit of answering for Kappa Beta Rho. What is the meaning of the new saying, "A change for 55"? We hear it has a moral connotation. Pardon are omission of the other new officers of KBR last week; here they are: Wes Sanislo, vice-president; Bob McNamee, secretary; and "Ace" Parker, treasurer.

The first Theta Epsilon pledge tea will be at Alumni Hall, Sunday, Feb. 27; it will be formal. . . by that the girls mean chapeau, what else! TE girls seemed to have cornered the market on

WOR Gives Plane Trip For Student Opinion

Here's a chance to use what you have learned about Shakespeare and Dickens in high school and college English literature courses.

You may win a round trip via KLM Royal Dutch Airlines to the Shakespeare Festival at Stratford-on-Avon and to Paris, plus $500 in cash for expenses.

The contest will be on the WOR Radio Playhouse Monday through Friday from 4:30 to 5 P. M. and from 9:30 to 10 P. M. Tuesday through Friday. College students will be invited to express an opinion in fifty words or less, on the subject, "How Do the Classics Compare with Modern Drama on Radio".

In addition to the prize trip for the student, the winning college student's alma mater will receive the latest Bell and Howell movie projector equipped to record sound directly on movie film; the student's English teacher will receive a Longine Presentation model wrist watch.

In addition, weekly and monthly prizes including Parker pen and pencil sets, movie cameras, watches, vacations at Banner Lodge, Moodus, Conn., and the Hotel Traymore, in Atlantic City, will be given to winning student entrants.

All entries should contain the entrant's name, address, and college, and should be sent to WOR Radio Playhouse, WOR, New York 18, N. Y.

Library Like Marilyn 'M.'

One of the most important buildings on campus, with the possible exception of Alumni Hall, is the University library, located in Fones Hall. Here students wishing to take advantage of the opportunity, have the ideal atmosphere in which to pursue their studies. With practically an unlimited supply of reference material and a staff of conscientious employees who are always willing to lend a hand, the student can devote his time entirely to his studies.

By using the library in the proper manner, we have found that more could be accomplished in less time than any other place, on or off campus. By accomplishments, we are referring strictly to academic pursuits and not the ever present social interests.

All English 101 classes are given a tour of the library and an introduction to the staff, facilities, and the correct procedure for obtaining material. However, many students are not familiar with the reserve shelves, various catalogues, and the stacks. Contrary to first impressions the "stacks" do not refer to Marilyn Monroe.

Council Has Many New Faces, Names

The rash of resignations on Student Council has left only one officer in the position that was filled last September.

Bette Weber remains as Executive Secretary. The other offices, all filled by election last week, include Bob Vossler, president; Dave Barr, vice-president; Marv Gelfand, treasurer; Sugar Aronson, recording secretary.

The shift has also created a "first" on Council. For the first time in Council history, a Freshman holds an office: Sugar Aronson, as recording secretary. She is also vice-president of the Freshman Class.

Due to scholastic requirements, one member of the Freshman class was forced to give up the post that was voted to him by the Freshman election last Fall. Minos Tsohadjopoulos resigned and Narlene Gleisher, an alternate, became a member of Council.

Also due to scholastic requirements, Joe Siciliano, first alternate, was forced to resign. Ruth Nodland becomes first alternate and June Bartram, second alternate.

Newman Club Gets A Home

Renovation work on the basement of the Catholic Community Center, 250 Waldemere Ave., for the establishment of a Newman Club Center for students at the University is progressing rapidly according to an announcement by Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, Bishop of the Bridgeport Diocese. The quarters are expected to be ready by the latter part of March.

Facilities to be available will include combination library-reading room, a recreation room with TV set, record player and ping pong table, large meeting room which will be used for business meetings as well as for social events, complete kitchen facilities and snack bar, and an office-consultation room for Rev. John F. McGough, chaplain for the group.

For the present the chapel will remain on the first floor of the building, where the quarters for the Newman Club are now located.

Pres. James H. Halsey said of the center, "The establishment of the Newman Club Center is warmly welcomed by the University of Bridgeport because it will help to re-emphasize the values of religious principles in education and provide students with additional recreational facilities in a most inspiring environment".

Active membership in the Newman Club now totals more than 125 students. Dedicated to the preservation of Catholic Culture and Catholic Fellowship, the Newman Club was named in honor of John Henry Cardinal Newman. Traditionally, it seeks to provide for the spiritual, cultural, intellectual and social welfare of the students.

Under the guidance of its chaplain, Father McGough, assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, 718 Myrtle Ave., and faculty advisor, Prof. Albion Doe, the Newman Club has grown from a handful of students in 1947 to its present membership.

Activities of the Newman Club include twice-monthly meetings which consist of a business meeting, a short talk on a religious subject by the chaplain or a guest speaker, and a discussion period followed by a social hour.

Recently an anonymous donor provided for the establishment of a Newman Club scholarship which will go into effect in Sept. of this year. One hundred shares of stock were turned over to the University, in trust, to provide funds for the scholarship.

Two Upsets For Knights Raise Spirits

The UB courtmen again brought glory upon themselves by snapping their six-game losing streak in defeating City College of New York, former NCAA and NIT champs, 71-61.

The high man for the Purple Knights was Jack Liggins with 26 points, while Merv Shorr led City with 27.

Although the Beavers drew first blood, the Knights quickly caught fire and started to open the scoring gap. When the half ended, UB was leading by 11 points.

In the second half, Nat Holman's group started fast, but UB's rigid zone defense was practically impenetrable. Most of City's scoring was forced to be done from the outside.

Between Liggins and Davins, they snared 29 rebounds for the Knights, 15 and 14 respectively. Shorr, the high scorer for the Beavers, also led in the rebound department with 18.

In the preliminary, the Purple and White Frosh took their seventh win of the year in defeating Newtown A. C. 69-55. Sid Green led with 15 points.

Farleigh-Dickinson 65

Herb Glines' hoopsters again pulled the cat out of the bag by defeating Fairleigh-Dickinson 80-65 at the Brasserie last Saturday night. The New Jerseyites entered the contest with a 9-10 record. Last year, Dickinson had a 17-3 record including a 20 point drubbing of UB.

High man, point wise, for the Purple and White was Ernie Amaral with 25 markers. Three other Glinesmen hit double figures. Jack Liggins, Jim Davins and Larry Babich, with 16, 16 and 14 respectively. Bill McClusky led the visitors with 21.

had a definite height advantage with two 6'7" men, the Purple and White out-rebounded them 46-32. Babich and Liggins gathered in 29 rebounds between them, compared to 32 pulled in by the entire Dickinson team.

At half-time, UB was behind by a 39-33 count.

In the second half, UB shot a sensational 63%. Half way thru the second half, the Purple and White took the lead for the first time on a jump shot by Babich. The score read 49-48. Then the Jerseyites scored 2 fouls. Amaral answered with a basket to give UB the lead. From there on in, UB opened the gap and finished up 15 points ahead of the visitors.

Adelphi Gives Swimmers 4th Defeat In Row

The Purple Knights went down to their fourth defeat of the season last Saturday at the YMCA pool. The strong Adelphi College team proved to be too much for the gallant men in Purple and White.

Because of the lack of manpower, the swimmers were unable to enter a man in the 300-yard medley event. Charles Anderson, the undefeated Knight's breast-stroker this year, won again on Saturday. The Knights fought their way for two other first places. The 60-yard relay topped by Howie Bader, Charlie Anderson, Dick Ellis and Mark Winnick.

Second place points were gathered by Bill Piascik in the individual medley, 300-yard breaststroke and 440-yard freestyle.

Bader copped third place in the 220-yard freestyle, while Eddie

Hall and Ellis received the same in diving and 100-yard freestyle respectively.

High scorer for the meet was Piascik, who gathered 9 points. This was enough to save the mermen from a 54-29 defeat. They are looking forward to the next meet where victory will reign for the UB Mermen.

The Ray of Sunlight in the spotlight last Friday night was Cynthia Ray, the IFC's "Greek Goddess of 1955". She had more than the crown on her head to be happy about, because Ken Rieke had just previously asked her the big question. And Cyndy's answer was "yes". They are planning to ring wedding bells in the late Fall.

Also on the "Wedding Kick" are Hank Steffens and Marion Campbell. Marion has her fingers crossed that Hank won't try to tell the priest a tainted joke during the ceremony.

The Army is pulling a dirty trick on Bill Kresge and newly acquired fiancée, Shirley Muldner. He is pulling out for the faraway shores of Germany today. There will be only love letters from now on.

The surprise of the week-end came on Friday night when John Brennan, last year's IFC prexy, appeared at the Greek Letter Dance. This year's president, Bill Bevacqua, raised the roof right off Lenny's when he sang two songs. This boy is one of the big talents in the school.

My fellow columnist, Bob Mendes, has narrowed down his field of beauties to one little girl, and she is Sue Napelbaum, the Sweetheart of POC. Neither will reveal the extent of their feelings, but it looks quite serious to this writer.

Minos Tsahadjopoulos, transfer student from Greece, and Cyndy Ray are having a picture taken together, which, Minos will send to his local newspapers back home.

DEB's Charlie Young gave his heart and a ring to Virginia Ekstrom for Valentine's Day. Cupid's finally coming through for me. President of Charlie's Frat., Ed Brown, under gross duress by Marilyn Case, gave her his pin.

Lovely Lynda Zahler, new mid-year Fresh, is getting the big rush from Gene Marsh. Patterson's loss is UB's gain.

After studying methods to cure ailments, nursing student M. Szalok has acquired a bad case of romantic heart trouble and an engagement ring from grad Pete Datzenko.

This may be love! Jay Ehrensaal and Joanne Szathmari added their names to the "just plied" list. They have been steady-coupling since last year.

Park Hall has produced two Valentine steadies. They are Carol Henkin and Irwin Brody, and Carole Pelinger and Hurtz Wein. Bert Epstein of SOS and Billy Rosenbloom of Schoitt are also following suit.

The demonstration will be conducted by Miss Joyce Greene, an elementary teacher of Fairfield who has taught French since foreign languages were introduced in the instruction program of all elementary schools at Fairfield.

Miss Mary Thompson, supervisor of languages in Fairfield, one of the promoters of the FLES program (Foreign Languages in Elementary Schools) in this country, will address the audience before the demonstration.

Convocation credit will be given for attendance.

salaries in these fields vary from $5000 to $6650 the lowest being counselling and guidance, and clinical psychologists; the highest includes personnel, social psychology, statistics and test development.

These figures are obtained from the 1948 findings in the American Psychological Association pamphlet, "A Career in Psychology", by Helen M. Wolfe. There is little opportunity professionally for a person with a B. A. in Psychology. Many positions may be obtained with only an M. A., however, in most fields a Ph. D. is essential for advancement.

A STUDENT'S BEST FRIEND is Lucky Strike. At any rate, the greatest, up-to-date college survey shows that college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands—and by a wide margin. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Luckies taste better anywhere, any time, as illustrated in the Droodle above, titled: Skier enjoying Lucky while whooshing under bridge. Next time you make tracks to a cigarette counter, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike.
